Where do you find hope?

Almost two thousand years ago, St. Paul wrote this to the church in Corinth: “We proclaim Christ crucified...for God’s foolishness is wiser than human wisdom, and God’s weakness is stronger than human strength” (1 Cor. 1:23-25). Some of the Christians in Corinth wanted to show off their spiritual gifts; they were convinced that they were better than others. They were quick to judge others and were not interested in caring for the poor in their midst. Paul needed to remind them that the only way that leads to life leads through the cross.

Over five hundred years ago, a young Martin Luther argued in his “Heidelberg Disputation” against theologians who wanted to bypass Good Friday. These “theologians of glory” called evil good and good evil. They wanted to justify themselves; they were lacking in empathy and humility. Luther was a good student of St. Paul. He understood that being honest about our sinfulness does not lead to despair, but to hope, as we realize our need for grace. That need leads us to the foot of the cross. It is there, hidden in suffering and weakness, that the true glory and power of God are revealed: “Now it is not sufficient for anyone, and it does him no good to recognize God in his glory and majesty, unless he recognizes him in the humility and shame of the cross...For this reason, true theology and recognition of God are in the crucified Christ”.

The false theology of glory is still alive and well today. Examples of hubris abound. Deceptive worldly promises of security, wealth, control, and power over others still tempt us. In contrast, we are called to turn to God, who is revealed most clearly in suffering and weakness. We see the crucified One in those who are despised and rejected, those who are treated unjustly, those who are most vulnerable.

Turn to Christ, and him crucified. There is our hope. In closing, I want to share a beautiful and profound hymn text from the third century. Since a friend shared it recently with me, I have been meditating on these words, and invite you to do the same:

“This cross is the tree in which I take delight. I take root in its roots; I am extended in its branches. In my tent I am shaded by its shade; its flowers are my flowers; I am wholly delighted by its fruits. This cross is my nourishment when I am hungry, my fountain when I am thirsty, my covering when I am stripped. For my leaves are no longer fig leaves, but the breath of life This cross is the ladder of Jacob, the way of blessed angels. This cross is my tree, wide as the firmament, extending from earth to the heavens. This cross is the Tree of Life.”

With love and in hope, Pastor Jean

New Organ Fund

As you may have read in our 2024 annual report, our current Rodgers organ is 25 years old and is approaching the end of its projected lifecycle. We anticipate needing to purchase a new organ in the next 5-8 years. Our Director of Music, Brian Gray, has begun researching our options. The replacement value (with installation) of our current instrument would be around $150,000. However, there are other promising options that could be purchased and installed for around $20,000-$50,000. We have formed an Organ Task Force to develop a recommendation and to plan fundraising efforts. (If you are interested in serving on this task force, please reach out to Brian). In the meantime, we have established a new organ fund, and invite contributions. Please earmark your donations to the “organ fund”. You can also donate online at www.faithlutheranerie.com.

Faith Care Ministry Update

Thank you to everyone who completed the survey and shared ways in which they were willing to assist other members in need! We now have a good list of folks who are able to provide meals during a time of illness or crisis, provide transportation to appointments, help with occasional household or yard chores, wait with someone in the hospital, and the like. If you or a family member can use a helping hand, please reach out to the church office or to Pastor Jean! If you didn't get around to responding to the survey, but would like to share your time and gifts in this way, please contact Pastor Jean, and we'll add you to the list.

Go Tell it in the Mountains Surveys

Help us tell it in the mountains! Go Tell it in the Mountains is a grant-funded initiative focused on revitalizing preaching and faith formation in our region; this project is a partnership of 3 Lutheran Church synods: Allegheny, Upper Susquehanna, and Northwestern PA. We want to hear from you! Based on your responses, the project team will develop resources for preachers and congregations in our region. Please take a few minutes to complete each of these two surveys. The first is about spiritual formation needs; the second focuses on worship and preaching. Your responses to both surveys are confidential. Thank you for your help! --Pastor Jean, Go Tell it in the Mountains Steering Committee member.

Hurray for Spring! The children of Faith Lutheran Preschool have been busy as bees, learning new things and reviewing past lessons. We are preparing for promotion (Preschool) and graduation (Pre-K) in May.

We learned about Police and Doctors during the month of March, ending with a visit from WQLN on Community Helpers! In addition, the PreK started reading! We learned about vowels & now know a dozen 'sight' words. Our spring crafts included many rainbows (some with pots of gold!), piglets & other baby animals, and pretty painted kites. Our Preschool class worked with the colors of the rainbow & baby animals, too—our vocabulary grew with new words like lamb, chick, duckling & colt. These students worked hard & can now write their own names. We enjoyed many shamrock activities to help celebrate St. Patrick's Day. We want to be sure to thank ALL in our community who helped to donate/purchase school items from our Angel Board—we love you!

April found our students digging into all things Spring: rain, clouds, flowers, eggs, insects & ponds. The PreK class was very excited to have Mr. Brian Gray teach us Bus Safety and take us to all 3 Harborcreek Elementary Schools! Pastor Jean shared stories & songs with both classes to help us learn more about Jesus, Palm Sunday, and Easter. The children studied the parts of a plant and what plants need to be able to grow. We were amazed to learn there are so many kinds of flowers and so many types of insects.

Our PreK children have become amazing at reading; they are blending sounds to read CVC (consonant-vowel-consonant) words. Plus, the students can write sentences with words they know & can add/subtract using 1-10 objects to help! The Preschool class has reviewed the whole alphabet and is now working to learn the sounds for each letter. We know colors, numbers 0-10, and shapes; a favorite activity is creating patterns. Though our Easter week was short, there were eggs for everyone & even some jellybeans!

We are continuing to register students for the 2025-2026 school year. Please help spread the word that forms are available at the Church & online at www.faithlutheranerie.com. Our last two weeks will fly by; we look forward to our promotion and graduation ceremonies. We wish our graduates well as they progress to Kindergarten, and we look forward to the preschoolers returning for Pre-K in the fall. Both classes have learned so much; we thank our parents for supporting these children as they develop! We truly enjoyed working & having fun with our Faith Lutheran Preschool friends!

When Quality of Life Matters

From the Console

He is Risen! Christ is Risen indeed! ALLELUIA!

As I write this now, my mind is solidly focused on the Triduum and Easter. Looking ahead from there, we're into the 7 weeks of the Easter Season, which include the "unofficial festivals" of Music Weekend and Shepherd Weekend, up through Ascension, Pentecost, and Trinity weekends. In the midst of this busy time in the church, with the blooming of the church gardens, the liturgical colors changing, and our worship switching from somewhat quiet and reflective to jubilant and joyful, Gillian and I are expecting baby Emma Belle to arrive sometime in mid-May (don't worry...arrangements have been made that if I'm not able to be here, Sundays will not have to be a capella!)

On a personal note, I want to express how unbelievably grateful I am to have been called to serve here. This wonderful community and family of Faith has been a bedrock of my life since I first visited, and am so lucky to have grown, not just as the musical leader here, but as a member of the Faith family. From the bottom of my (very tired) heart, thank you all. Emma will be blessed with so many "aunts, uncles, brothers, sisters, and additional grandparents" here, that I have no doubt if she starts fussing during worship, there will be a line of you to hold her and bounce as daddy plays the organ. My heart is full.

See you in church! ALLELUIA!

Brian
