Idle and blessed

"…I don't know exactly what a prayer is.
I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down into the grass, how to kneel down in the grass, how to be idle and blessed, how to stroll through the fields,
which is what I have been doing all day.
Tell me, what else should I have done?
Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon?
Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?"—from The Summer Day by Mary Oliver

Last month I took a couple of hours away from our synod assembly to walk along the Shenango River. I was delighted to see three baby otters cavorting in a shallow stream and galumphing through the underbrush, snorting and chirping as they went. Last year, on the same walk, I watched a pileated woodpecker move from tree to tree looking for snacks. This world, in spite of all its brokenness, is still a beautiful place, infused with wonder.

We are called to remember the Sabbath and keep it holy. In part, this is a call to worship and praise, a reminder to root ourselves in God's living Word. It is also a call to rest, to cease from doing and producing and worrying, an invitation to simply be. It is good to remember that everything does not depend on us and that our worth does not depend on what we do or fail to do. We are already and always beloved. Slowing down and paying attention is in itself a kind of prayer.

My wish for you this summer is that you find time to be "idle and blessed". Put down your phone and turn off the television. Take time to breathe. If you are able, spend some time outside each day—listen to the song of birds and insects; feel the warmth of the sun; watch the clouds; notice the changing colors on lake and sky. It is indeed a wild and precious life, and every single day is a gift.

Blessings and peace,
Pastor Jean

At the Cookhouse Pavilion at Presque Isle State Park

Bring a lawn chair and join fellow Erie Lutherans on Sunday, August 9th at 10:00 AM for the annual beach service at the Cookhouse Pavilion (near Waterworks) at Presque Isle State Park. Pastor Jean, conference dean, will be preaching, and special music will be provided by the Sudanese community from Holy Trinity. We will gather for worship, fellowship, and food. If able, please bring a dish to share that does not require heating or refrigeration, such as breakfast rolls, fruit, or coffeecake. Lamb of God will provide juice boxes, and Mount Calvary will provide coffee and table settings. The pavilion is handicapped-accessible. We are grateful for the opportunity to worship together in God's creation and enjoy fellowship in Christ. We hope to see you there!

There will be no Sunday services at Faith on August 9th; plan to join us at the beach service or attend the 6:00 p.m. Saturday service at Faith on August 8th.

Fall Bible Study with Pastor Jean, Sept. 2-Oct. 28, Wednesdays, 5:30-6:30 p.m.
"Journeys through Revelation: Apocalyptic Hope for Today"

The book of Revelation evokes both curiosity and anxiety. Many people find it scary or intimidating. Yet the primary message of Revelation is one of hope, especially for Christians in situations of tyranny and oppression. This Christ-centered book is full of hymns and praise to the crucified Lamb on the throne, the One who alone is worthy or our praise and allegiance. Revelation invites us to imagine the beauty of God's promised future and still offers hope to us today. We will use a study guide written by Barbara Rossing, a Lutheran pastor and professor of New Testament who has written extensively on Revelation.

Season of Creation

Living Water
Season of Creation 2026

The Season of Creation is an annual ecumenical celebration that encourages Christians throughout the world to give thanks for the gift of creation and to renew our relationship with God the creator and with all of creation. It begins on September 1, recognized as the World Day of Prayer for Creation, and concludes on October 4, the Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of ecology. This relatively new liturgical season is endorsed and encouraged by the World Council of Churches, which includes Roman Catholic, Orthodox, and many Protestant denominations.

This year at Faith we will mark the Season of Creation with special liturgy designed for the season. On September 5-6, (our final weekend of outdoor worship for all three services this year, weather permitting), we will use scripture texts and prayers for the Stewardship of Creation. On October 3-4, we will use a service of lessons and carols for creation, in commemoration of St. Francis of Assisi.

When Quality of Life Matters

From the Console

From the Console

As we continue to raise funds for the next instrument to lead our congregation, I'm reminded of how incredible our community of faith is here. In just over a year, we've raised over $30,000! We've gone into this knowing it was going to be a multi-year campaign (with a somewhat flexible target as prices fluctuate), but I'm still blown away by the generosity and dedication to our music program. Thank you!

We have a few fundraisers still running right now: The raffle to "Sail with the Organist", the Faith Lutheran Cook Book, and Erie Gives happens again on August 11th. If you have questions about these, the current organ, the future organ (or organs in general), or how to become involved in the music program here, please stop at the bench. I love the little conversations each week.

See you in church!

Brian

BOOK CLUB
Book Club Books for July through October

The Faith book club meets on the second Tuesday of the month at 5:30 p.m. All are welcome! Here are the books for the next few months:

July 13 Big Little Lies in a Small Town by Diane Chamberlain is a dual-timeline mystery and historical fiction novel set in Edenton, North Carolina. It follows two young women, nearly 80 years apart, whose lives are linked by a single post office mural.

August 10 The God of The Woods by Liz Moore is a multi-layered literary thriller set in the Adirondack Mountains. The story weaves together multiple timelines to explore family dysfunction, class dynamics and long buried secrets.

September 14 The Correspondent by Virginia Evans is a critically acclaimed novel told entirely through letters, emails, and unsent notes. It follows Sybil Van Antwerp, a witty and fiercely independent 73-year-old retired lawyer who relies on letter-writing to make sense of her world, her hidden grief, and her complex relationships.

October 12 The You I Never Knew by Susan Wiggs is a successful advertising executive returns to her Montana hometown with her troubled teenage son. She goes to donate a kidney to save her estranged, Hollywood-legend father, and ultimately confronts buried family secrets and her own first love.

November 9 Finding my Way by Malala Yousafzai. Malala steps beyond her public image to share her vulnerable coming-of-age journey. The book details her transition to independent college life, battles with PTSD, and experiences with romance, ultimately offering a deeply personal look at self-discovery and finding her authentic voice.
